Dear Richard:

I knew when I selected you to be our keynote speaker you would be great. However, you exceeded those expectations of greatness!

Your opening keynote energized our conference for the next two days and sent people home feeling great about their experience. Your understanding of the audience and making the message so personalized for them was extremely rewarding.

I plan on recommending you as a speaker for any business or organization that really cares about their people. We will be promoting you to our complete network and hope that business flows your way from your excellent keynote.

Sincerely,

Bill J. Bonnstetter
Chairman
